READ THIS!! There, now that I have your attention, let me tell you all about my story. In the year 2068, the world is kept safe by agencies tasked with protecting the world's citizens and preventing the crimes of the evil. One such agency, the Global Support Agency, sent out their four best agents to recover a powerful device, capable of unimaginable feats. When these agents had the device in their hands, they were captured, and found themselves the subject of the device's extraordinary power. These four agents, along with a fifth member, who worked with an undercover corporation, were sent to the year 2091 and must now find a way to get back home. However, the group soon finds out that getting home is the least of their problems, when they discover all humans have been turned into monsters. All, but one young man, who agrees to help the group find a way back home. Prepare yourself for a tale of courage, friendship, action, romance, and bad puns. Then prepare yourself again, because I'm not kidding, there's some pretty bad jokes in here.
