Other title- "An Earth Man on Venus". High Adventure and Strange Romance on a World of Mystery When Myles Cabot accidentally transmitted himself to the planet Venus, he found himself naked and bewildered on a mystery world where every unguarded minute might mean a horrible death. Man-eating plants, tiger-sized spiders, and dictatorial ant-men kept Myles on the run until he discovered the secret of the land—that humanity was a slave-race and that the monster ants were the real rulers of the world! But Cabot was resourceful, and when his new found love, the Kewpie-doll princess Lilla, called for help, the ant-men learned what an angry Earthman can do. The Radio Man is a science-fiction adventure packed with the excitement of an Edgar Rice Burroughs, and the science-vision of an H. G. Wells. You won't be able to put it down once you start it. On the planet VENUS you will meet— THIS EARTHMAN MYLES CABOT, a good-looking young Boston radio experimenter, who accidentally broadcast himself bodily to another world. THESE GIANT ANTS QUEEN FORMIS, a twelve-foot-high monster, who ruled a world from an egg-laying couch, and could conceive of no mercy for her human slaves. DOGGO, who became Myles Cabot's friend through a curious accident and who first showed Myles the ropes on that queer planet. SATAN, who was given that name by Myles for the unpleasant reason that he deserved it—and who lived up to it. THESE VENUSIAN PEOPLE PRINCESS LILLA, the lovely girl with the Kewpie wings, who held the key to the throne of Venus and the key to Myles' heart simultaneously. YURI, the suave scoundrel who wouldn't hesitate to sell out his whole race to get Lilla's hand by force. TORON, who tipped Myles off to Lilla's private intentions in order to save himself from slavery. BTHUH, the beautiful lady who conspired to win Myles for herself, though she had to help his deadliest enemies to do it.
