A mutated Major Matt Mason clone designed to find out the mystery of a barrier nothing and nobody ever returns from, acquires super human powers that result in a major loss to him. He goes back in time to not only obtain his powerful space ship, Mutainia, that he lost in his current universe, but, tries to right the wrongs of what he did earlier when he acted like a galactic a-hole he feels was caused by radiation effecting his mind. Little does he realize the dark forces behind him that are on the verge of bringing terror into the earth's galaxy.

Although this strange universe of Newtin seems to have a lot in common with the Star Trek universe, it's actually a parallel universe with differences.
